The photos must be in sharp focus and clear, show skin tones, and have appropriate brightness and contrast. There must be a strong definition between the face and background, and they must be printed professionally – photos printed at home are unlikely to be of acceptable quality.

Also, photos must not show shadows and you must directly face the camera with a neutral expression and with your mouth closed. Your eyes should be open and clearly visible – with no sunglasses or heavily tinted spectacles, and no hair across your eyes. If you normally wear prescription spectacles, there should be no glare apparent, and the frames should not cover your eyes – you may find it easier to remove your spectacles.

Please show your full head, without any head covering, unless it is worn for religious beliefs or medical reasons. Also, please ensure there is nothing covering your face or masking the outline of your eyes. nose or mouth.

Photographs of the guide, hearing or assistance dog must clearly show the head of dog looking directly at the camera.
